WHAT ARE YOU WATCHING?

The Math Musical

The Math Musical is a musical about a jock who winds up in the math dimension, where comedic math themed antics are revealed to be a backdrop to political machinations that threaten the lives of everyone involved.

10 Ways to Survive the Zombie Apocalypse: a short comedy

It humorously depicts a group of unqualified survivors, failing at ridiculous methods to survive the zombie apocalypse, such as trying to weaponize song and dance, leaving the planet, or even cannibalism.

Living with it

Each child has a monster that lives under your bed up until you grow into your first adult bed. What happens when someone never gets the new bed and makes the monsters adapt to adult fears.

Spylight

The mission is simple: Infiltrate a lavish party, steal a dangerous device, and stop the villain. The problem? The spies are idiots. What unfolds is a fast paced parade of terrible distractions, enthusiastic mustach-twirling, dance offs, fake laptops, and a villain that loves monologuing more than actually villainy. Will the world be saved? Maybe pray.

The Importance of being Earnest

The importance of being Ernest is a witty comedy in which two young gentlemen, Jack and Algernon, use the false name "Ernest" to pursue the women they love. Their deceptions collide, leading to mix-ups, sharp banter, and a final humorous revelation about identity and social pretenses.

A Midsummer Nights Dream: Act 3

Full of fairies, actors, and mischief, this fabulous act of A Midsummer Nights Dream is absolute chaos! We have donkeys, love potions, fighting, sleeping, and love. Who knows what may happen?!

Senior Directors

Ava Lewis

Ava is incredibly excited to be a One Act director this year! In their free time they enjoy learning exotic bird calls, practicing pick up lines on mannequins, and writing quality program bios. Enjoy the muffins!

Daphne Gilstrap

Daphne has been involved in the theater program all 4 years. She's known from day one she's wanted to direct a one act. She chose Midsommer Nights Dream because she read it for a project in 8th grade and immediately fell in love. She is so proud and excited to have her cast perform and to have directed such a wonderful play and cast.

Kolten Marsh

Kolten Marsh has been doing theatre his entire high school career. He's been in numerous plays and is using those plays he's been in and the experience of directors he's seen to do one of his own. He's already directed one show that turned out great, why not another?!

Senior Directors

Andrew Gollnick

Ever since Andy were a wee Freshman lad, he knew, in his heart of hearts, that the world needed one thing, and one thing alone, a thing of somewhere between mild to the utmost importance: a musical about math. Why??? To prove it can be done (and because it would be funny).

Atheris Kincaid

This is Atheris' 4th year doing one acts she knew since freshman year shed fallen inlove with one acts and wanted to direct and write her own. Including her love for swing dancing, corny romance, and spy movies!

James Nead

James Nead has been doing theater since middle school and wants to share the hard work of his cast. He wrote his play to personify anxiety and fear in life. He hopes to make you laugh and maybe cry.
